

Israel Brown

Why does the candidate wish to be a NAMC Board Member?

Serving the minority contractors is an obligation that minority contractors must do. In the medical field there's a saying that says "each one, teach one". This saying creates a culture of give, serving and teaching. I want to do my part.

Why would the candidate be an asset to NAMC by serving on the Board?

I have over a decade of military leadership experience as an Army officer including leading troops in combat. Almost a decade as estimator/PM with a top 3 general contract in the Southeast and now lead a $30M contracting firm for over a decade.

What does the candidate want to accomplish during his/her two-year term?

For me, its not about what I can accomplish but how I can help serve NAMC's mission. I want to use my leadership, influence, network and abilities to move the mission forward.

CAPTAIN

I'm a life learner, a family man, and a person of principles and values. I began my career in construction with one of the top GCs in the Southeast and started my leadership journey in the Army as Combat Engineer Commander. My passion is adding value to people, seeing them grow, and being a positive influence in their lives.

I'm equally passionate about construction. Taking an idea, putting it into drawings, and then bringing in people, processes, materials to turn those drawings into a building gives me great joy! Everything I've ever done successfully is due to surrounding myself with great people. I'm a firm believer in the "turtle on the fence post" principle. If you ever see a turtle on the fence post, you know he didn't get there by himself.
