

Kelsi Queen-Robinson

Why does the candidate wish to be a NAMC Board Member?

Kelsi would bring a youthful prospective to the ATL NAMC board.

Why would the candidate be an asset to NAMC by serving on the Board?

Kelsi has grown-up in NAMC for most of her life... she is part of the legacy of Arthur J. Queen. She's witnessed her father's dedication to this organization up close and knows what it means to make a difference, making her a great asset.

What does the candidate want to accomplish during his/her two-year term?

Help to bring new members into the ATL Chapter.

BIOGRAPHY

Kelsi Queen-Robinson was born in George Washington Hospital in Washington, D.C. Her family relocated to Atlanta, GA in 1985, so she considers herself to be a Georgia Peach. In 2002, Kelsi graduated Suma Cum Laude from Norfolk State University with a dual B.A. degree in Psychology and Education. Kelsi has been married to her high school sweetheart ReDiaux for 23 years. They have 2 children their daughter Kalen (25) who is a graduate of Howard University and son Malik (20) who is a Junior at Alabama A & M University.

Kelsi was a teacher in the Norfolk Public Schools in Virginia, Escambia County Schools in Pensacola, Florida, and DeKalb County Schools in Georgia. Making a difference in the lives of children is very important to Mrs. Robinson. She truly believes that investing in the lives of children plays a vital part in shaping the future of the world.

In May of 2011, Kelsi received her Executive Masters in Business Administration from Colorado Technical University with a 4.0 GPA. This degree served as a platform for one of her greatest accomplishments. In May of 2012, Kelsi was named CEO of EGM Services, Inc., a firm established in 1986 by her father and located in Decatur, GA. One of her many goals includes inspiring other minority females to become leaders in the Construction Industry.

Kelsi has continued to work within the community by serving the youth in metro Atlanta by serving on the board at Brownsmill Park for the DeKalb Yellow Jackets, serving on the South Dekalb YMCA board and being a participant in the Principal for a Day Program in DeKalb County that links community leaders with local schools. Kelsi is a current board member of the Dekalb Chamber of Commerce. Kelsi has served on several panels to that represent women in construction, minority business practices, and financial strategies for minorities. She is also currently a mentor to several young ladies in middle and high school.

Kelsi's memberships include: Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Incorporated, National Association of Professional Women (NAPW), Georgia Chamber of Commerce, The Atlanta Business League, National Association of Minority Contractors, Love Life Christian Fellowship Church and the Dekalb Chamber of Commerce. Kelsi received the Hidden Figures award for Dekalb County in 2017.

Her life's motto is "Complete every task in Excellence or don't do it at all".
